

A vintage military aircraft, possibly a Spitfire, is displayed on a grassy area in front of a modern building with large windows. The aircraft is painted in a dark olive green and grey camouflage scheme, with a prominent roundel insignia on the wing. The building behind it has a mix of brick and light-colored stone or concrete panels.

Trustees Annual Report and Accounts (2025)

The Royal Air Force Music Charitable Trust was established by Malcolm Goodman MBE at RAF Cranwell whilst serving with the Band of the Royal Air Force Regiment and PR and Marketing Manager for the Royal Air Force Music Services.

Following the appointment of former Chief of the Air Staff, Air Chief Marshal Sir Michael Graydon GCB CBE as its President, the RAF Music Charitable Trust became a registered charity on 27 January 2004.

Now based in Newark, the charity organises concerts by the Royal Air Force bands to raise welfare funds to support the wider Armed Forces community.

STRUCTURE GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing Document

As a registered charity, the Royal Air Force Music Charitable Trust is governed by its Deed of Trust dated 1 December 2003, registered by the Charity Commission on 27 January 2004.

Charitable Objects

To advance, improve, develop, and maintain public education and the appreciation of the art and science of music in all its aspects and to promote the welfare of serving and former members of the Royal Air Force and their dependants through donations to other Royal Air Force charities, and by such other ways as the trustees shall from time to time determine to support the wider Armed Forces Community.

Public Benefit

We have referred to the guidance contained in the Charity Commissioner's general guidance on public benefit when reviewing our aims and objectives and in planning future activities, In particular the trustees consider how planned activities will contribute to the aims and objectives they have set.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

Over the last 21 years the trustees have endeavoured to maximise the spread of concerts as widely as possible around the country. However, the cost of band coach and equipment transport combined with the obligatory subsistence charges for military personnel causes increasing concern. Additionally, with the time constraints of Drivers' Hours regulations (maximum nine hours per day), it is now unrealistic to arrange any concert at a venue that is more than three hours coach driving time from either RAF Northolt or RAF Cranwell – where the RAF bands are based. As such a restriction can only be overcome with the sponsorship of overnight accommodation, in the absence of such financial support many of the country's finest venues continue to remain beyond the reach of the charity's finances.

The 2025 concert series included concerts by the Band of the Royal Air Force College at our regular venues of Doncaster (CAST), Newark (Palace Theatre) and Lincoln Cathedral. However, as the trial afternoon concert in Doncaster did not produce the same ticket sales as the previous years' evening concerts, the concert will return as an evening concert once again in 2026.

An additional concert with the Band of the RAF College took place at the prestigious Princess Alexandra Auditorium in Yarm. However, with very poor ticket sales the concert made a significant financial loss and will therefore not be repeated.

The Epsom Playhouse provided a new concert venue, this time for the Band of the Royal Air Force Regiment, however, failing to attract the expected audience this concert also resulted in another notable financial loss. Despite this, as a conveniently located venue for band travel from RAF Northolt, and as the venue hosts a variety of other well-established military band concerts by other Service bands, in the hope of gradually establishing an annual concert in 'London' the trustees have agreed to arrange another concert in Epsom in 2026.

Royal Air Force Swing returned to the Terry O'Toole Theatre, North Hykeham (Lincoln) for a second year, and even with a small but capacity audience the concert was a great success both musically and financially.

As the trustees look toward to 2026, the concert series will include performances in Doncaster, Newark, Lincoln (Cathedral and Terry O'Toole Theatre) and Epsom. The charity will also resume concerts in Weston super Mare. With its on-going links with RAF personnel from RAF Cranwell there will also be a special concert by Royal Air Force Swing Wing at Newark Academy.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

At the end of the financial year the charity had cash funds of £27,838 enabling the Board of Trustees to consider a similar programme of concerts in 2026 as previous years.

Review of Major Risks

The charity does not undertake any activities or enter any contractual agreements that cannot be fulfilled with funds either currently available or reasonably expected.

Grant-making Policy and Donations

In accordance with the charity's governing document, the trustees may provide grants and welfare donations to other service charities, associated organisations, and personnel.

Having donated more than £100k since the establishment of the charity, and despite the significant reduction in concert income in 2025, the Royal Air Force Music Charitable continued this well-established series of donations and grants in support of the wider Armed Forces Community.

The 2025 beneficiaries were:

- Scotty's Little Soldiers (£1,500) – a Service charity specialising in providing support for bereaved military children who have experienced the death of a parent who served in the UK Armed Force.
- Bomber County Gateway Trust (£1,500) – a Service charity established to finance the sculpture of a life-sized Lancaster Bomber located beside the A46 on the county border between Lincolnshire and Nottinghamshire.
- Royal Air Force Service Funds (£1,500) – Royal Air Force charity account that provides welfare support to Service personnel.

Following a personal donation by Malcolm Goodman to the charity, the RAF Music Charitable Trust was pleased by sponsor a special piece of music composed by London based Ukrainian composer Iryna Gould. Entitled 'Never Forget', the work was inspired from her personal experiences of the Russian invasion and on-going war in Ukraine.

Having heard the orchestral version at various fund-raising events in London, Malcolm invited Iryna to make a special concert band arrangement of the piece, as 'Never Forget' was considered to be a very evocative musical work that could be used at RAF concerts and remembrance events to reflect and remember all those who gave their lives in all wars and conflicts around the world.

This original concert band version of 'Never Forget' had its premier performances by the Band of the RAF College in Newark and the Band of the RAF Regiment in Epsom and is now part of the RAF Music library.

The charity was also pleased once again to be a sponsor at the RAF Music Annual Soloist Competition and Awards event at the Regents Hall in London, where Sally Goodman presented the RAF Music Charitable Trust award to Sergeant Joseph Whelan as winner of the Fanfare Composition.

Appointment of Trustees

The trustees are appointed by the Board of Trustees by a resolution of the trustees passed at a special meeting called under clause 15 of the governing document (Deed of Trust). The charity has no custodian trustees. The trustees meet regularly during the year, either in person or using video conference facilities. The day-to-day management of the charity is delegated by the trustees to Malcolm Goodman in his role as Honorary Administrator.

Trustee Remuneration and Benefits

Neither the trustees nor any person connected with them has received any remuneration or benefits in 2025.

Trustee Expenses

During the period 4 trustees were reimbursed expenses totalling £2,173* for travel and subsistence costs incurred for the administration of the charity and associated concert planning.

Note: The trustees voluntarily choose not to reclaim all their charity expenses, thereby minimising the charity's administration costs.*

Staff Costs and Emoluments

The charity does not have any paid staff or employees and is managed on a completely voluntary basis by the trustees.

Signature and Declaration

I declare, in my capacity of charity trustee and Honorary Administrator, that the trustees have approved this report, and have authorised me to sign it on their behalf.
